To Mrs. Jimmie Jones

In any school population, there are always people who contribute to the effective continuation of the school year. In the case of Tidewater Academy, there is one person who gives willingly and consistently of her time, her effort, her creative talent, and her patience. Mrs. Jimmie Jones provides Tidewater with an abundance of her good will and enthusiasm, whether it is working on the Prom, the Halloween Festival, the Beauty Pageant, or whatever school activity is taking place at the time. Mrs. Jones not only assists the upper school classes with most of their projects, but she provides the creative and artistic inspiration and application for most of the activities at Tidewater Academy. Mrs. Jones can always be found with a sketch for a Homecoming float possibility or constructing a part of the ear of a dragon for a prom structure. Whether the project is large or small, Mrs. Jones gives her time and energy unselfishly. We, the students, of Tidewater Academy would like to thank Mrs. Jones for her advice, her help, and her kindness.

The beginning of a new school year is a fast paced time. All the students race for lockers and the football players spring down the field. The Kindergarteners reflect anticipation while standing at the starting gate to their futures. The Seniors, smiling, show the knowledge that every step brings them closer to their finish line. The face of each student shows determination as they strive to place among their competitors. The days of our school lives fly by without recognition of growth or change. The little details and relationships that are later important to us are lost in the bustle of every day activity.

PEOPLE IN THE NEWS

School memories are particularly precious because school is the place at which the young reach out for their future. It is the place where we live out our thoughts and ideas and where we grasp for realities. Each facet in the daily routine is important to the growth and maturation of each student's knowledge. Each new day brings on new challenges and adventures. New goals are made and new standards are set, but, the result is always the same: the images of one's school days fade away with time.

This book is always going to bring back all those memories, the memories of Homecoming, football, the Ring Dance, basketball, snowball fights, the Prom, Senior Day and finally Graduation. We want the images of the thrills of victory or the agonies of defeat to be remembered. To the students we give these memories that were so carefully tucked away in our Great Race for knowledge.

Kindergarten Is Fun

The Kindergarten Class has been busy this year learning to read and write and work with numbers. To get us in the Christmas spirit, we visited Santa Claus in Richmond and ate lunch with him. The highlight of the year was our Graduation Program. This program gave us a chance to show off what we learned and our acting ability to our family and friends.

1. Heather Gwaltney and Joseph Pittman find Kindergarten work very interesting. 2. The boys get ready for another long, hard day. 3. Karen Barker and Chris Murphy hold hands in the corner. 4. The first grade has five boys and ten girls this year. We have learned to read, write, add and substract.

On December sixth, we went to see Santa Claus in Richmond. Each one of us told him what we would like to have and then we ate lunch with him in The Tea Room.

We have a good time during our play period and we get along very well with our friends.

Second Grade Studies Science

The Second Grade classes have twenty-five students this year. We have taken trips to the movies to see "Tom Sawyer" and to Coleman's Nursery Winter Wonderland. We enjoyed participating in the School Christmas Program. In Science, we have particularly enjoyed the study of animals and planets. Learning Cursive Writing has been one of the highlights of this year as it has made us feel grown up. We have also enjoyed our new physical education classes.

Third Grade Visits Nature Museum

There is only one third grade this year with twenty-five members. We have been to see "Tom Sawyer" at the movies and to the Nature Museum in the Spring. We participated in the Christmas program with the fourth grade. We have fun learning and playing together.

Fourth Grade Visits Jamestown

The highlight of our year was our trip to Jamestown on October 16. Everyone enjoyed the Fort and the Glasshouse. It was interesting to visit the ships and to see how pottery is made.

The third grade joined us for a Christmas program, "I'm Getting Nuttin for Christmas." Several of our mothers gave us a delicious Christmas party.

The fifth graders have shown enthusiasm for school projects like the magazine drive and the Christmas Program. A major emphasis upon United States history has led to a variety of individual projects including essays, illustrations, and models. A main goal is to practice good citizenship. The class wrote essays on citizenship in action for the D.A.R. contest.

SIXTH GRADERS PRACTICE FORENSICS

This year the students are again reunited in a single group of sixth graders. We have taken a trip to Petersburg to see the movie "Oliver" and we went on a field trip in the spring to Richmond. We participated in the Christmas program and led the entire group in the singing of carols. Practicing for forensics takes a lot of time, but we are hoping it will help us make a good showing in the 1980 Spring Forensics.

1. Sixth graders show great interest in their studies. 2. On a complicated problem, Andy Rodgers pretends to know what he's doing. 3. George Rolley takes time out for meditation. 4. The "Mean Sixteen" Resurrect

The 1979 varsity football team knew it had a hard row to hoe. The 1978 team had failed to win a game. Many experienced players had graduated. The new season began early in the summer with a weight-lifting program initiated by the new athletic director who proved to be hard-working and very dedicated. Starting with a small group known as the "Mean Sixteen," Coach Malcolm Covington beefed up his squad with J.V. players. After losing the season opener to Isle of Wight, the Warriors bounced back with two straight victories. The fans went crazy; the team was ecstatic. Dedicated patrons treated the team to a celebratory dinner at Nick's Seafood Pavilion in Yorktown. The next five games found Tidewater in a scoreless drought. A downpour at Miller produced a soggy victory. In the final game, the Warriors massacred the York Confederates 26-0. The season seemed to end too quickly. The men were just getting started.

Varsity Basketball Team

Although they won no games, playing basketball was an invaluable experience to the members of the team. The girls learned to accept defeat gracefully, to keep trying when they were far behind, and not to accept other people's judgements. Despite an absence of great support and an early lack of uniforms, they kept their spirits up and vowed to come within 20 points before the season was out.

At the first practice they had only 7 girls. By the second game there were 13 players. Less than half the team had played basketball before. Miss King and Mr. Russell showed inexhaustible patience, especially when confronted with questions such as, "What's a screen?" Throughout the season the girls showed improvement. Their last game was obviously their best.

J.V. Basketball Girls Have a Winning Season

The Junior Varsity Basketball team this year proved to be one of the most exciting teams in Tidewater's recent history. They were a vivacious and energetic group of girls who gave 100% at every game. Led by their coach, Mr. Stuart Russ, they thrilled the student body with their performances and enthusiasm.

Varsity Cheerleaders Encourage Enthusiastic Support for Football

The 1979 football cheerleaders had a very successful year. Their high spirits and exciting pep rallies spurred our team to victory again and under Miss Delap's guidance. Their routines seemed newer and fresher with obvious enthusiasm. They sponsored many interesting activities during Homecoming week, and their dedicated contributions to our school spirit were well received.

National Honor Society Promotes Excellence

The National Honor Society is an organization of individuals recognized for Service, Character, Leadership, and Scholarship. This year the National Honor Society provided voting registration papers for eligible students and also had many bake sales to raise money. Each year they have two tappings to induct new members. The organization has the worthwhile function of maintaining integrity and good behavior among the student body.

1. National Honor Society Officers: L-R: George Garrett (Secretary-Treasurer), Bob Epperson (Vice-President), Woody Dunn (President). 2. Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y

Under the sponsorship of Mr. Lee Sherman, the Hi-Y sponsored a field trip to see the Eric Blades-Hampton Aces hockey game at Hampton Coliseum. Before that, however, the Hi-Y was preparing for its annual project, its participation with the Tri-Hi-Y in the YMCA Model General Assembly. The sale of pounds of candy and the drafting of a bill went into preparation. On April 10th through 12th, Mr. Thomas Perry filled in for Mr. Sherman and led committee chairman, Bob Epperson, senators, Ronnie Andrews and Kevin Seward, delegates, Kevin Clarke and Ronnie Reekes, and pages, Keith Joyner and Robin King to join the Tri-Hi-Y in passing their bill: a 20 percent income tax cut for the costs of residential solar system.

Have Great Success at Model General Assembly

The Tri-Hi-Y was very active this year. Under the sponsorship of Mrs. Ann Epps, many community projects were carried out. On November 17, several members attended a district conference at Dinwiddie High School. Workshops were held for participants in the Model General Assembly. On April 10, 11, and 12, the Model General Assembly convened in Richmond. Christy Worrell (Senator), Kim Britt (Lobbyist), Tina Laing (Reporter), Anne Galloway (Delegate), Penny Edwards (Page), and Karen Joyner (Senate Page) participated. Also in April a Special Olympus Mini-Meet was held at Camp Rudolph in Jarratt sponsored by the Waverly Adult Activity Center. Penni Pennington, Becky Massie, Sandra Kay Stephenson, Lori Atkins, Chris Galloway, Kristi Thomas, Paula Stoch, Terri Peters, and Sandy Sheffield worked as assistants to the athletes. In May, the group began a campaign to collect canned goods and clothing for a needy family. This project was another qualification for the Ace Award, an award given for outstanding community service and school projects.

Unusual Activities

In the week leading up to our Homecoming game, there were many activities which stirred excitement and enthusiasm for the coming contest. In the beginning of the week, the cheerleaders sponsored several competitions, among them a contest for the most unusual and most creative hats. Betty Ann Renney, Kevin Seward, David Vinson, Jenny Titus and Henry Goodrich won prizes in this competition. On Wednesday, all students and faculty were asked to dress in the style of the Fifties. The winners of the Fifty's competition were a faculty member, Mr. Billy Russell and Susan Epps. On Friday afternoon, a school picnic was held with each class selling food items and participating in a volleyball tournament with the winners playing the faculty team. The sophomore class gained the title — unbeaten even by the faculty. The volleyball game was followed by a spirited pep rally which featured the varsity and junior varsity cheerleaders performing an artistic pom-pon routine. The homecoming game itself highlighted thw week's activities. The halftime festivities were the focal point of the week. Each class entered a homecoming float into competition using the theme for this year, Walt Disney.

1. Mr. Havard crowns Homecoming Queen Lisa Seward. 2. Greg Whitmore and Anne Chesson ride on the eighth grade float. 3. The crowning of the Homecoming Queen climaxed halftime activities. Lisa Seward was crowned by Mr. Havard as the 1979 Homecoming Queen of Tidewater Academy.

Her maids of honor were Mary Robinson and Mary Carol Stephenson. The Homecoming Court was composed of Roxanne Garrity, Karen Joyner, Mary Monahan and Randee Kay Roach.

On the whole our homecoming this year was one of our best. Our spirits were high and our school the best!

Kim Britt Crowned Miss Tidewater

On November 10, 1979, the Sophomore Class sponsored the Annual Miss Tidewater Pageant. Each class and club had a representative. The contestants competed in street clothes, evening gowns and a talent competition. After a night of many smiles and much emotion, Kim Britt was chosen from the 11 beauties entered. The finalists were Lisa Seward, 1st runner up, Sharon Huber, 2nd runner up, Patty Dodds, 3rd runner up and Karen Joyner, 4th runner up. Entertainment was provided by the Wakefield County and Gospel Singers and Miss Tidewater 1979, Christy Worrell. The pageant was a very successful and entertaining event for everyone.

1. Future Linda Ronstadt. 2. Kim Britt happily receives her crown. 3. As Lori Atkins walks down the aisle, she manages a smile. 4. Sharon Huber smiles sweetly at the crowd. 5. Sharon Simms takes a graceful walk. 6. Showing her talent, Karen Joyner does a humorous monologue. 7. Miss Tidewater Academy, 1979, provides entertainment.

A Spooky Halloween Festival

On October 27th, the Junior Class sponsored the Halloween Festival. The Festival featured lots of fun games. To start with, there was the wheel of fortune with all the excitement of Las Vegas gambling. The pie throw was a thrill to those who threw a pie. Some games, such as the football throw and the basketball throw, are oldies but they are still fun. The children enjoyed fishing in the little fish pond. The Juniors had one of the best spookhouses in many years. They had characters like Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde. The spookhouse had a real coffin with a dead vampire who came alive. The Junior Class was assisted by Mrs. Jones who contributed to the success of the festival. It was a fun night and a great money-maker for the Junior Class.

1. Modern day Scarlet O'Hara. 2. Kent Jones captures two foxes in one night. 3. Sandra Stephenson casts a wary eye on passersby. 4. Sandy supervises the ring toss. 5. Is this an invasion from the Land of Oz? 6. Ashley Havard clowns around. 7. Mr. Russell anticipates hitting the straw. 8. A Tidewater Hobo takes a hike around the Festival.

Fall Assemblies Provide Interest

The SGA sponsored many interesting assemblies this fall.

On October 10th, the student body and faculty were entertained by the Wayside Company, a group from the Wayside Theatre in Middletown, Va.

Their presentation was entitled "SHAKES & CO.", and included many scenes, both comedies and tragedies from Shakespearian plays.

Everyone enjoyed this entertaining and educational performance.

During the Christmas season, the school was entertained by the Randolph-Macon Mixed Chorus. Their program included sacred and secular classical Christmas music.

Both programs were enjoyed by all and the school appreciated this sharing of talents greatly.

1. A sweet kiss from The Taming of the Shrew. 2. A pretty sailor and the creature from The Tempest. 3. The S.G.A. presents "Shakes & Co." 4. The Randolph Macon chorus sings old English Christmas Carols. 5. The Randolph Macon College quartet, including former Tidewater Academy student Hank Matthews, sings intently.

WINTER

As time passes through the bleak days of winter, students acknowledge the upcoming mid-term examinations. The Juniors anticipate the coming of their rings and the Ring Dance that is held in their honor. The boy's basketball and soccer teams are in full swing, the cheerleaders are working on their pom-pom routines and everyone is looking forward to the first snowfall.

OFFICE

With one semester ending and the school year half over, we, the students begin to look back to what was and we look ahead to what will be. The Varsity basketball team won the Commonwealth Conference Tournament Championship and Virginia experienced the worst blizzard of the century. With this all behind us, we realize we will never pass this way again. We want to look back for the memories and the laughter, we want to look ahead for our roads to success.

The Seventh graders came over to the High School this year. They experienced the thrill of changing classes for the first time. The Seventh graders were very active in participating in J.V. and Jr. sports, like basketball and cheerleading. They had fun working on their science and math projects with help from their sponsor, Mrs. Spencer. Mr. Rowe instructed them in Social Studies and Language Arts.

The eighth grade has had a big year this year. They participated more in high school activities such as taking foreign languages and playing J.V. sports. They also got to show off their talents by winning the homecoming float competition. Their sponsors were Mrs. Atkins and Mr. Sherman. Class officers were President, Beth Clary; Vice-President, Anne Chesson; Secretary, Charles Ruble; and Treasurer, Randee Roach. Their S.G.A. Representative was Spencer Perkins.

The Freshman Class

This year was an active year for the ninth grade. They were a big part of the spirit at Tidewater. They played in many sports, including J.V. soccer, J.V. basketball, J.V. softball, and J.V. baseball. Their enthusiasm and spirit paid off when they placed second in the Homecoming float competition.

Their sponsors were Mr. Parker and Miss Ange. Freshman class officers were: President, Anne Ashworth; Vice-President, Henry Goodrich; Secretary, Mary Monahan; and Treasurer, Betty Renney, Charles Stephenson was their representative to S.G.A.

Sophomores Sponsor Pageant

Beginning the year with more responsibilities, the Sophomores looked towards the future. Getting involved in new activities and sports, their year was filled with excitement and fun. They did a splendid job on the Beauty Pageant with the assistance of Mrs. Jones and their class sponsors, Mrs. Stanley and Mr. Seeley. The Junior Class Has

The Juniors opened the door to new opportunities this year. They sponsored the Halloween Festival which turned out to be an excellent project. It was very well attended. One of the best new experiences was the Ring Dance and the excitement of receiving their class rings. Tackling the task of decorating for the Prom, the Juniors made it a lovely evening for everyone. The Juniors ended the year by sponsoring the Senior Banquet at Graduation. The Junior Class is sponsored by Mrs. Scott and Mr. Russ. The Junior class officers are President — Ronnie Reekes, Vice-President — Jeanine Morgan, Secretary — Jeannie Faison, Treasurer — Pam Jarratt, S.G.A. Representative — Roxanne Garrity.

Varsity Soccer Has

The Varsity soccer team had a stormy season this year. The season began with only twelve players, but the energy and dedication of the team members compensated for the lack of manpower. The skills of the team improved due to more experience and the necessity for all members to participate in every game. Due to adverse weather conditions, several games had to be cancelled at the last of the season. Several of the junior varsity players were promoted to the varsity team when the J.V. team was dissolved because of lack of participation. These players made a substantial addition to the team on the road and when injuries occurred. Six senior players will be leaving the team this year, but they leave a competent, dedicated team which will surely have success in the future.

Varsity Cheerleaders Get New Uniforms

The Varsity Basketball Cheerleaders were a close family this year. From their mascot, Deborah Britt, to their sponsor, Ms. Brenda Ange, each person was special and partially responsible for the success of our basketball team. Arrayed in their new uniforms, their cheers stirred every crowd and the response brought us many victories. Of course, we suffered losses but these were taken in good sportsmanship by all. Winning the Commonwealth Conference Tournament Championship made the long months of total dedication worthwhile.

The JV cheerleaders, under sponsor Miss Delap, had a very active year. Though the squad was small, their excitement during games was contagious. They cheered their team to victory with surprising skill and organization.

Outlined in their new uniforms, the Jr. Cheerleaders performed each cheer with excited enthusiasm. As this was their first year, they, and their sponsor Mrs. Spencer, should be congratulated on their fine performance.

French and Spanish Clubs

The French Club had a very enjoyable year under the leadership of President Andy Cobb, and the guidance of Mr. Ammons. The club held a Bon Voyage party for the people who went to Europe. They also held a Birthday party for Mr. Ammons, and they went to see the play "Tartuffe" at the University of Richmond. The year ended with another trip to Richmond to see the movie, "Le Cage aux Folles" or "Birds of a Feather" with a wonderful French lunch at "Le Chef."

Ronnie Andrews Motivates SGA Action

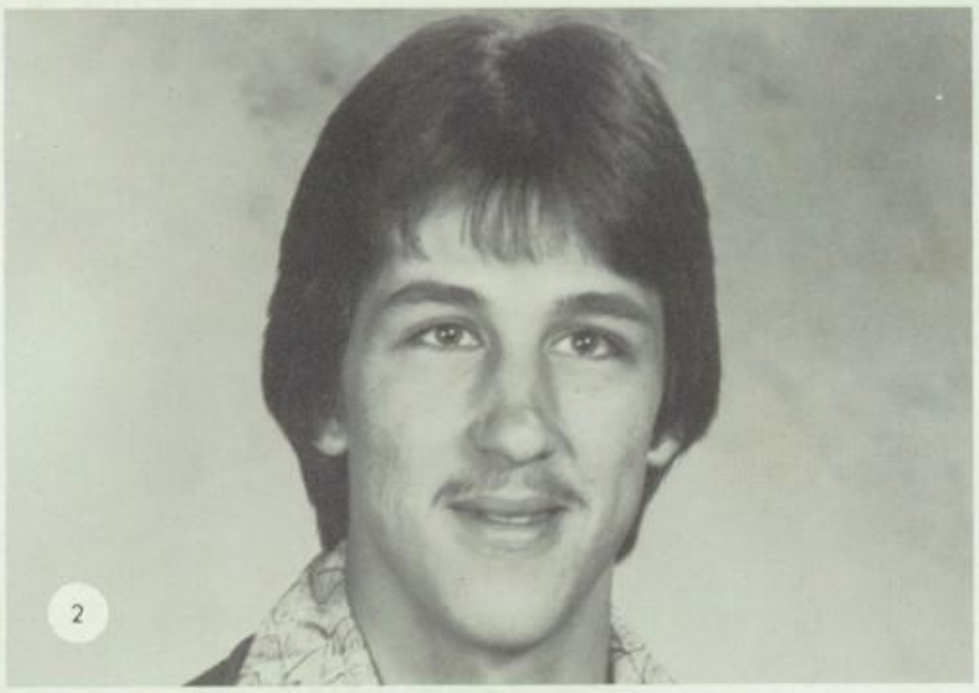
The SGA was very active this year. One of the most successful projects this year was the ongoing assembly program which offered some exciting groups of performers. Another SGA sponsored project was the magazine sale which made possible the new foyer flooring and doors at the entrance of the gym. They had 2 picnics and finished out the year with the election in which the new officers were elected. This year's officers were: Ronnie Andrews (President), Jeannie Faison (Vice-President), Kristi Thomas (Treasurer), and Sharon Simms (Secretary).

1. The candidates await their speeches. 2. Kristi Thomas addresses the audience. 3. Carlton Jarratt makes his campaign promises. 4. Anne Ashworth presents her campaign to the students.

Ring Dance Brings Surprises

This year's Ring Dance held a great surprise in store. In December, Juniors and Seniors waited anxiously for that special occasion when the Juniors received their rings. Unfortunately, the band forgot about the dance. Due to the band's absence the dance was cancelled and rescheduled to February. The dance was moved to February 16, and the music was provided by "Crosstown." The second dance was a great success.

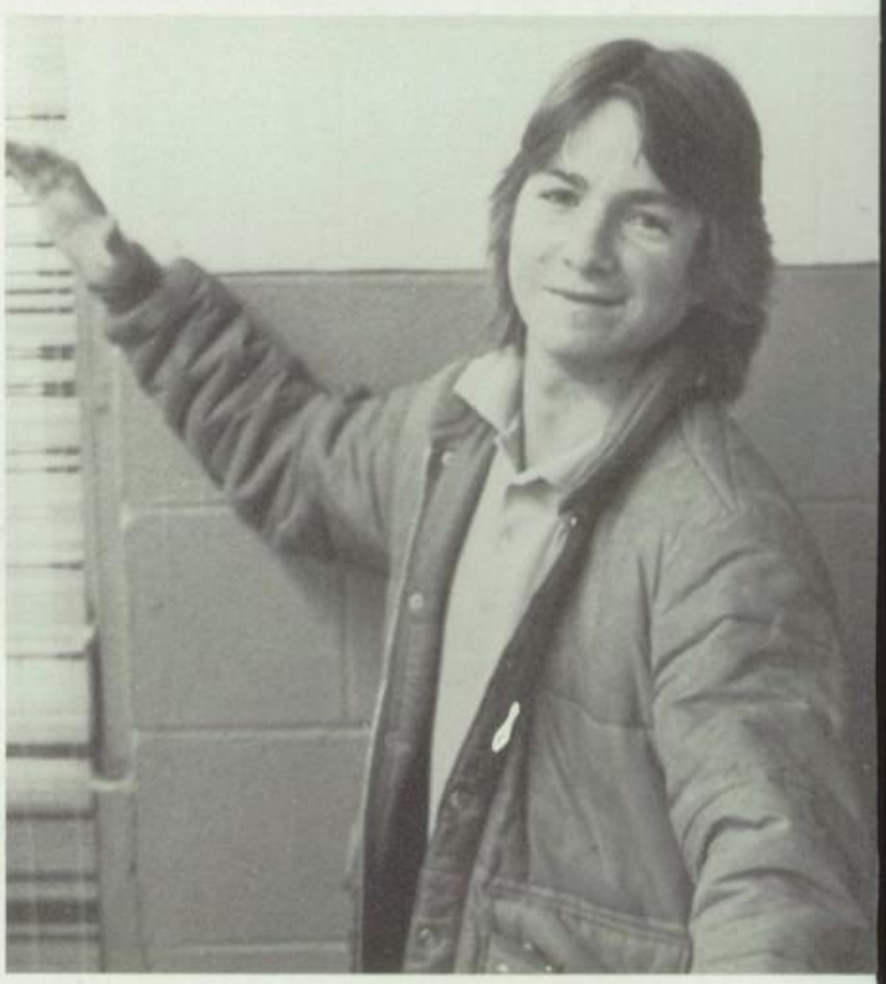
1. Senior Sponsor Mrs. Sheffield tends to the fire during the dance. 2. "Crosstown" provides great music for the ring dance. 3. Ronnie Andrews and Michelle Pearson relax while the band takes a break. 4. Couples slow dance and have a great time. 5. Tina Laing and Steve Price pose for the camera during the festivities.

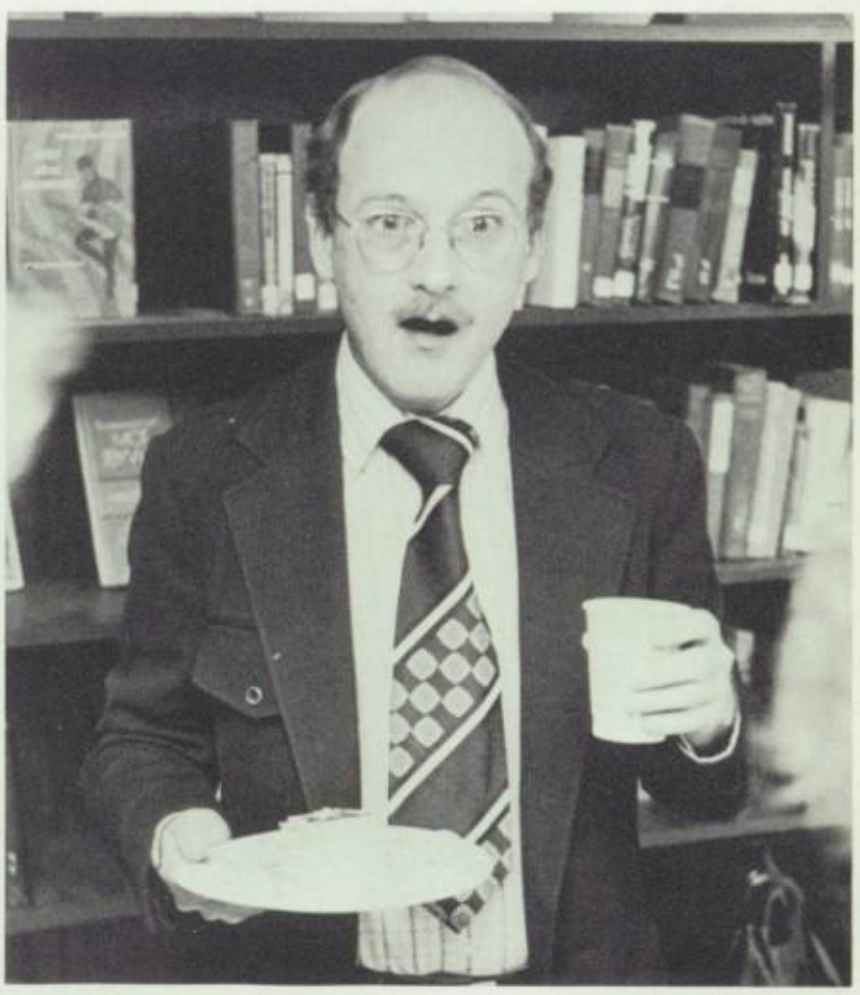


SPRING

After the long, cold, and extremely snowy winter of 1980, each student was looking forward to the arrival of spring. The first blossoms and the first warm temperatures seem to bring out the best qualities in each student. Easter vacation is anxiously awaited, and afterwards, everyone settles down to finish the school year. Baseball and softball practice begins with the first spring thaw. The Juniors work diligently on the Prom, while the Seniors who are counting the days until graduation, are finishing up their last year with Independent Study.

Spring is a time for reflection on the events of the past year. Each student has a personal accumulation of memories, bits and pieces of days gone by. Everyone, at some time, looks back for smiles, laughter, and possibly tears, but everyone must look to the road ahead for the things to come. Everyone strives to find the road to success, but we do this with some sadness, because we will never pass this way again.





Varsity Softball Wins

The Varsity Softball team, because of hard work and unstincted dedication, gave a startling, exhibition of talent this year. They lost only 9 of 26 games and received the nickname "the exciting eleven" from their coach, Mr. Stuart Russ. Their most reassured memory will be that of having been the Commonwealth Conference Tournament Champions by defeating Nansemond-Suffolk 9-8 and Hampton Roads 8-4. The girls deserving of this title as only true champions can be.

Varsity Baseball Dominates Commonwealth Conference

Under Coach Malcolm Covington, the Varsity Baseball team had a winning season. Each player contributed his talent to the team effort and through this effective blending of talent the Commonwealth Conference Champions and the Commonwealth Conference Tournament Champions became ours. The closeness of the team and Covington's satisfaction in their performance sent them to a 13-4 record.

1. Richie Pond wears a look of patience that hints at a double play. 2. Under the observative eye of the ump — Jim Wilson tries to hit a homer. 3. J.V. Baseball Goes 10-5

The J.V. Baseball team experienced one of their best seasons ever this year. Under the coaching skills of Mr. Billy Russell, the team had a winning season with 9 wins and 5 losses. Junior Varsity sports usually serve as a training ground for future varsity athletes, but this year's team proved that excellence can be achieved without the recognition that varsity sports received.

1. Lewis Epps waits impatiently for a chance to steal. 2. Coach Billy Russell gives pointers to his runner. 3. Crouching low, Allen James, tries for an out. 4. Tom Russell pitches with a strike in mind. 5. Todd Gholson throws with careless ease. 6. 1st Row, L to R: Coach Russell, Todd Gholson, Robert Bracey, Allen James, Kevin Booker, Rusty Epps, Jeff Vaught. 2nd Row, L to R: Lewis Epps, Carter Nettles, Tony Seward, Charles Stephenson, Ernie Turner, Benjie Jarratt. 3rd Row, L to R: Winston Schultz, Rex Davis, Tom Russell, Richie Bracey, Glen Robbins.

Though this year's J.V. Softball Team was as Coach Wayne Rowell said, "a young team," they won ten games out of thirteen. Beth Clary was leading hitter with a .512 average and Mary Ann Chamberlain was "outstanding pitcher." Rowell commented, however, that a solid team effort was responsible.

Tennis Team Hits the Nets

Under their coach, Miss Nancy Delap, the tennis team gave a valiant effort this year but accumulated no victories. Even the experienced players met with difficulties. The year was very disappointing for the girls but their hard work and dedication should receive some recognition.

1. "Oops, I bet I missed that one." 2. Anne Ashworth concentrates on her return serve. 3. The smooth backhand of Sandra Stephenson knocks 'em dead. 4. Mary Carol Stephenson waits for the ball to find her racket.

Photography Club Has Party Spirit

The Photography Club spent most of the year in the darkroom producing photographs of excellent quality. Many of the photographs were exhibited in the circulating art exhibits sponsored by the Virginia Association of Academies. In the closing months, the photography club assumed the role of the "Tidewater Gourmet Club" by selling hotdogs during lunch to acquire funds for the "First Annual Tidewater Academy Photography Club Seafood Feast" held at the Wakefield Sportsman Club. Tom Perry, the club sponsor, set the theme, "It's Not the Big Apple, But . . ." with colorful signs placed all around the building designating different sections of New York. An enjoyable day was held by all, as club members and guests feasted on steamed crabs and shrimp, barbecued chickens, and broiled scallops. With the addition of a continuous horseshoe game and a sufficiently loud stereo, the feast was a definite success and will hopefully be continued every year.

1. Kevin contemplates a bumper. Maybe for a later photograph? 2. Steam, baby, steam! 3. George takes a tea break after a tough horseshoe match. 4. Fearless leader on his second batch of crabs. 5. Susan shows us what she thinks of photographers. 6. Club members confer on the best way to quarter and cook a chicken. 7. Tidewater Academy Photography Club: First Row: Mr. Perry, sponsor, Terry Adams, Munford Ashworth, Barry Allen, Bubba Barrett, George Garrett. Second Row: Tina Laing, Karen Joyner, Becky Massie, Donna Barnes, Carolyn Fannin, Ricky Burgess, Mary Carol Stephenson, Mary Robinson, Susan Scarborough, Ginger Presson, Sandra Stephenson. Third Row: Ronnie Andrews, Kevin Seward, Brett Allen, Epes Elmore, Blair Beale, Bob Epperson, Andy Cobb, Woody Dunn.

Tina Laing Heads Yearbook Staff

The Yearbook Staff spent its time attempting to make a memorable yearbook. Tina Laing edited the yearbook with the guidance of sponsor, Luann W. Scott and the help of assistant editors, Becky Massie and Penni Pennington. Christy Worrell was Business Manager. The staff labored painstakingly to create this year's edition of The Warrior.

Senior Play, Finders Creepers,

"Finders Creepers," directed by Mrs. Luann Scott, was this year's Senior Play. In the story, Wilbur Maxwell and Hercules Nelson, played by Kevin Clarke and Ronnie Andrews, are two young teenagers who come to visit Hercules' uncle Bob (played by Bob Epperson). Wilbur and Hercules, hope to escape the drudgery of school during their weekend visit, only to find out that Uncle Bob runs a mortuary. This is not the kind of vacation that they had in mind. Mr. Quigley (Andy Cobb), the richest man in town, who is faking death in order to trip his would-be murderer, frightens the boys, who think he is a ghost, and woos Granny (Christy Worrell), a true "gray panther."

1. Frankie (Kim Britt) is engrossed in her monster magazine. 2. Celeste (Mary Robinson) and Nina (Michelle Pearson) wonder when the boys will return. 3. Mr. Schuster (Woody Dunn) threatens Mr. Nelson (Bob Epperson) with a law suit. 4. Mr. Nelson (Bob Epperson) and Mr. Schuster (Woody Dunn) get ready to dual it out. 5. Mr. Quigley (Andy Cobb) rises from the dead. 6. Claude (Kevin Seward) proposes marriage to Daphne (Christy Faircloth.) 7. Hercules (Ronnie Andrews) and Wilbur (Kevin Clarke) look as if they had seen a ghost.

Proves to Be an Entertaining Evening

1. Granny (Christy Worrell) prepares for a new adventure. 2. Hercules (Ronnie Andrews) is surprised to find out that his uncle is a mortician. 3. Mr. Schuster (Woody Dunn) surprises Wilbur (Kevin Clarke). 4. Madeline (Tina Laing) intimidates Wilbur (Kevin Clarke). 5. Mr. Nelson (Bob Epperson) calls to confirm Mr. Quigley's (Andy Cobb) death. 6. Hercules (Ronnie Andrews) tries to impress Celeste (Mary Robinson). 7. Mr. and Mrs. Nelson (Bob Epperson and Anne Goodrich) prepare to unload the boys' suitcases. 8. Mr. Quigley (Andy Cobb) shows his disgust at having to sleep on the hard marble slabs for the deceased. 9. Hercules (Ronnie Andrews) and Wilbur (Kevin Clarke) feel the deadly effects of Dr. Brown's (Mark Johnson) poison pills that turn out to be aspirin. 10. Wilbur (Kevin Clarke) thinks the jig is up.

Spring Festival a Big Moneymaker

The Spring Festival was a great success this year. Held at the Lower School in Dendron, the festival had attractions for all ages. For the children, the TPA provided competitive games, and amusement park activities. To attract older persons there were crafts and much socializing. Refreshments were also provided and the profits from this event told its own tale.

1. These boys enjoy their adventure in the moon walk. 2. The younger children find the puppet show fascinating. 3. The Spring Festival gets off to a good start. 4. This little boy and his father have a good time playing the hoop game. 5. Cotton Candy anyone?

Spring Assemblies Fascinate

In the spring in any school there is a time when things become restless.

This year there were special assemblies to attempt to alleviate this problem. Some of the highlights of the assemblies in the spring were the performance of a mime team, Dr. Tom and Suess, and also of the traditional Class Day and Awards Assembly at the close of school.

1. Suess performs a mime routine for the student audience. 2. Blair Beale proves to be an able assistant. 3. Miss Ange and Dr. Tom delight the crowd. 4. A complicated scene? Shakespeare, perhaps? 5. Andy Cobb and Kristee Smith read the Last Will and Testament of the Senior Class. 6. Clay Saunders, Rosemary Chappell, and Kevin Seward present a look at the class of 1980 ten years from now in their skit, "Real Great Mediocre People." 7. Keith Joyner presents senior class Sponsor, Mrs. Sheffield, with a gift. 8. Mr. Havard presents the Harvard Book Award to Bobby Hines.

China Grove Highlights

As you walk through the door, you were surrounded by an oriental atmosphere. Union Pacific played music made for such a memorable night. Every person present became engrossed in the feeling of excitement. This year's Jr.-Sr. Prom was one of the best ever at T.A. "China Grove" the stage for the night of carefree fun. This year's prom a memory not soon to be forgotten by anyone who was in attendance. The treasured memories that the Seniors have are due to the diligent work of the Juniors, who gave numerous hours of their time to make the Prom of 1980 one of the most spectacular ever.

1. The band, Union Pacific, played a versatile assortment of southern rock and roll. 2. Sandy Sheffield reaches high to hang streamers. 3. Due to a press for time, P.E. classes helped out. 4. Ronnie adds a little support while Doug and Stancell cut it. 5. The Senior line-up looks on with anticipation. 6. Jeannie and crew work on her original dragon design. 7. The huge Buddha added much to the oriental atmosphere.

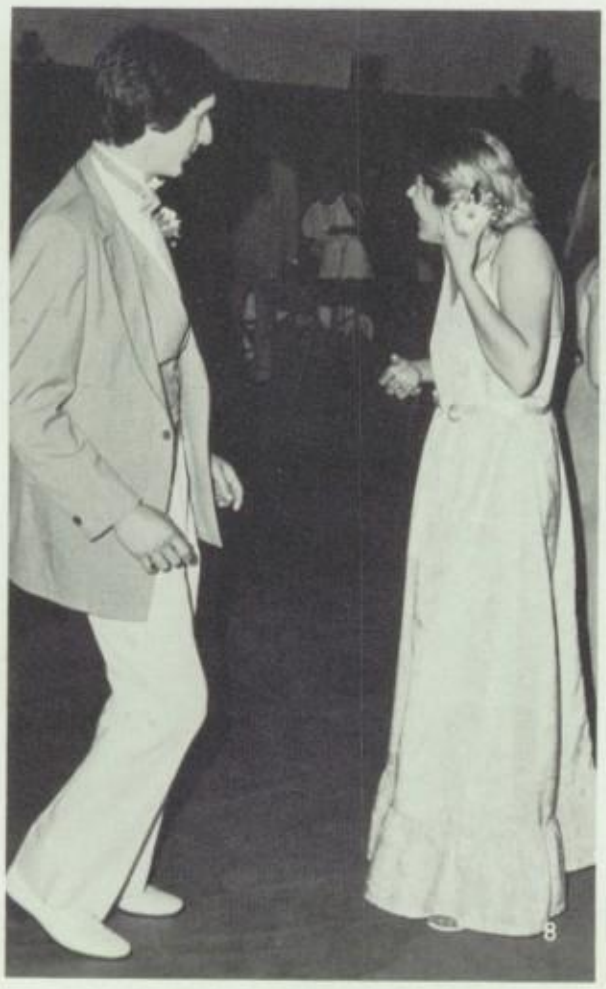
Christy loses her flower while Andy looks on in amusement. 9. "May I have this dance?"



Seniors

The Seniors had a very eventful, and successful school year, from Homecoming, to the Prom, to Graduation. The knowledge that this was their last year added a special emotion to each activity. The smiles from the realization that all the hard work and all the effort was worth it, will be remembered and treasured for many years to come.

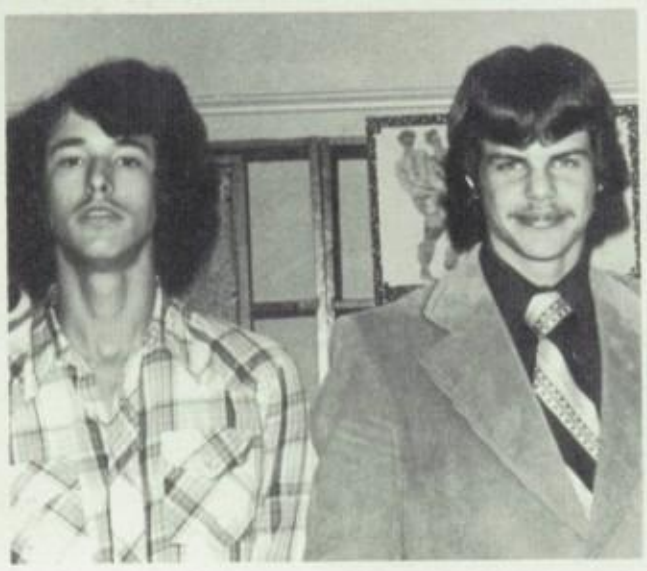
Seniors at Work and Play



Class Day and Graduation '80

Senior Day, May 30, was a special event this year. The Seniors read their class prophecy and their Last Will and Testament under the set of "Real People." They also received their gifts from the Juniors. The traditional Senior Picnic was held at the Log and Lantern Campground. Everyone enjoyed eating, swimming and playing putt putt golf.

Graduation Day, June 8, was anxiously anticipated by each senior. The day began with Baccalaureate at 4:30 in the Wakefield United Methodist Church. The Rev. James Tongue gave the message and the seniors sang an inspirational "I Believe." The Tidewater Patrons Association served the graduates and their parents dinner at the Wakefield Campgrounds before graduation. Robert W. Daniels Jr. was guest speaker for Graduation service. Kevin Clarke, Woody Dunn, and Anne Goodrich were the senior speakers. Suzanne Buckingham led the entire class into singing the beautiful "Times of Your Life" and the touching "Follow Rain and Rivers." This exciting day ended with the presentation of awards and finally, diplomas, to the Class of 1980.

1. The Class of '80 waves goodbye. 2. Seniors provide the music for graduation. 3. George Garret receives his award from Mr. Havard. 4. Kevin Clark speaks to the graduation crowd. 5. At class day Assembly, Seniors chuckle over Junior gifts. 6. Congressman Robert Daniels addresses the commencement audience. 7. Keith Joyner presents Mrs. Buckingham with a gift.

Editors Note —

Being editor of the 1980 WARRIOR, was the most exciting thing that I did this year. It is a gratifying and fulfilling job to see that your hard work pays off in a rewarding way.

Everyone contributed his share of work to make this book what it is, and I thank them and also would like to thank Mrs. Scott for being a great advisor and friend. If it wasn't for her this yearbook wouldn't be what it is.

I loved being Editor and I hope that whoever fills my shoes will have as much fun as I did this year.

Tina Laing
Editor

ADVISOR'S NOTE —

It takes much concentrated effort and time consuming labor to produce any yearbook. We sincerely hope that this book will be one that you will long cherish and use as a reminder of your days at Tidewater Academy. There are so many people who were instrumental in the production of this yearbook. First, I would like to thank the faculty and administration of the school for providing us with so many services and special considerations. Special thanks go to Mr. Havard for his patience and understanding, and to Mrs. Bea Huber and Mrs. Barbara Bailey for the kind helpfulness. Also, I would like to thank Mrs. Sarah Anderson, at the lower school, for her many services and kindnesses.

Thanks also go to our yearbook representatives, Danny DeFalco and Jeff Waters, who help us so often and so well. Mr. Dwight Saine is thanked for taking all our school pictures.

The real production of the book was spearheaded by our editor, Tina Laing. Tina has proven to be an exceptionally fine editor, and my personal thanks go to her for her fine work and many hours of trying to get things just right. I would also like to thank the rest of the staff. You were a pleasure with which to work, and I enjoyed the working relationship.

Special thanks to to Mr. Tom Perry for his supervision of the picture taking and processing. His expertise in this area has proven to be invaluable.

It has been a good year, and we hope, a good yearbook.
